

Jason M. Crow, CIPP/US

MEMBER

Grand Rapids

crowj@millerjohnson.com

T 616.831.1745

Jason M. Crow is a member of the firm and is part of Miller Johnson's Privacy & Cybersecurity and White Collar practice groups in the firm's Litigation Section.

Mr. Crow has experience advising clients on compliance with a variety of privacy and cybersecurity laws governing private and government organizations, including state privacy and data breach notification laws, HIPAA, CAN-SPAM, FCRA, Critical Infrastructure Protection Act (CIPA), ITAR/EAR, and the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Mr. Crow advises companies on a broad range of technology-focused agreements, including data protection agreements, IT equipment and services agreements, and website and software application development agreements. He supports the corporate and M&A teams on deals that involve privacy, data security, and technology issues.

Mr. Crow is a Certified Information Privacy Professional – United States (CIPP/US) who has advised clients on important organization initiatives such as information security policies and procedures, data collection practices, website privacy policies and terms of use, advertising and email/text message

Practice Areas

- Litigation
- Fraud and Embezzlement Recovery
- Privacy and Cybersecurity
- Criminal
- Crisis Management
- Business and Corporate
- Commercial Litigation
- Government Investigations
- White Collar
- Personal Legal Services
- Private Client
- Health Care
- Public Sector
- Mental Health Law
- Cannabis

Education

- J.D., Boston College Law School, 2010
- B.A. cum laude, Grand Valley State University, 2001
- Certified Information Privacy Professional – United States (CIPP/US)

Bar Admissions

- Michigan, 2014
- Massachusetts, 2010

marketing, data retention and destruction, Department of Homeland Security cybersecurity assessments, and others. Clients benefit from Mr. Crow's team approach to data security issues. To that end, he has developed the practice group's strategic alliances with identity theft protection services, information technology and security experts, cyber-risk insurance providers. He also coordinates the firm's membership in the Meritas Data Protection Group, an international team of expert privacy lawyers.

Mr. Crow also represents clients in a variety of matters in state and federal court, with a focus on complex civil litigation and government investigations. He has experience representing corporations and individuals in government investigations of potential violations of fraud and abuse laws governing participation in state and federal health care programs such as Medicare and Medicaid.

Before coming to Miller Johnson, Mr. Crow spent three years in the litigation section of a leading international law firm where worked on both white collar and privacy and cybersecurity matters.

Representative Privacy and Litigation Matters

- Advised a government entity in a major data breach response investigation and mitigation effort that involved a parallel criminal investigation by the U.S. Attorney's Office and FBI.
- Advised various organizations on all aspects of data breach preparation, including implementing cyber-liability risk mitigation strategies and developing internal privacy law compliance programs.

- Advised various organizations on all aspects data breach response, including managing notifications to affected individuals and government enforcement agencies, and coordinating remediation efforts.
- Drafted and negotiated data security and privacy provisions in commercial agreements for entities in various industries.
- Represented a major U.S. healthcare provider in connection with a several-year investigation conducted by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General and the U.S. Department of Justice regarding alleged kickbacks to patient referral sources and false claims for reimbursement, along with parallel civil qui tam action under the False Claims Act.
- Represented former Chief Investment Officer of a national investment advisor in connection with an SEC investigation that resulted in complete exoneration after a three-week hearing.
- Represented a corporation and its President in an investigation conducted by the U.S. Department of Justice Antitrust Division into allegations of bid rigging.

Professional Affiliations, Activities and Honors

- Crow has been named as a Super Lawyers Rising Star in White Collar Criminal Defense since 2014.
- Crow held internship positions at the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts for the Honorable Leo T. Sorokin, and at

Harvard Law School's Digital Media Law Project

- Crow is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the Grand Rapids Bar Association and the International Association for Privacy Professionals (IAPP). He is admitted to practice in Michigan and Massachusetts in both state and federal courts.

Articles and Presentations

- Crow has conducted seminars and trainings on privacy and cybersecurity issues facing his clients for organizations like the Grand Rapids Community Foundation and the West Michigan Cybersecurity Consortium.
- Crow was quoted extensively regarding Privacy & Cybersecurity issues facing law firms in the headline article titled "ABA opinion updates methods for secure client communications" in the June 5, 2017 issue of Michigan Lawyers Weekly.
- In March of 2016, he conducted a webinar on "HIPAA Data Breaches: How to Prevent, Prepare For and Respond."
- Crow presented on "Managing Risks While Leveraging Cloud Technology" at a national Product Liability Product Safety Conference in October 2015.

Education

- D., Boston College Law School, 2010. Notes Editor, Boston College Law Review
- A. cum laude, Grand Valley State University, 2001
- Certified Information Privacy Professional - United States (CIPP/US)

