- Intentionally defective grantor trusts
- Family limited partnerships
- Limited liability companies
- Crummey Trusts
- GRATs

Elder Law and Disability Planning

Ms. Murphy has a statewide reputation as an expert in Elder Law, helping families with the legal and practical aspects of planning for the needs that arise as people age. Her mission is to serve as an "agent of hope" when families are in crisis over nursing home and long term care issues. Her caring manner eases their anxiety and provides a level of trust in her counsel so that they know there is a solution in sight. Her clients are prepared when faced with difficult decisions due to Ms. Murphy's vast experience in drafting proper documents, asset protection planning, and researching topics from Medicaid eligibility to quality nursing home care.

Some specific elder law services she provides include:

- Preparing powers of attorney and patient advocate designations
- Filing guardianships and conservatorships
- Preserving government benefits Medicaid and SSI
- Providing assistance with Medicaid/Medicare issues such as spend down and asset sheltering
- Preparing Medicaid applications and forms, and assisting with appeals if needed
- Reviewing nursing home contracts and policies
- Identifying resources for people afflicted with Alzheimer's or other dementia
- Protecting the homestead – preserving the family's primary residence to benefit the homeowner and his or her family

Special Needs Planning

Ms. Murphy believes that every person deserves the highest level of respect and consideration. Her practice also includes planning to maximize resources for people with disabilities and special needs. Ms. Murphy prepares trusts to protect people with disabilities so they can maintain government benefits while family funds are used to enhance quality of life. She works with disabled people who receive funds from insurance proceeds and money judgments to draft and fund special needs trusts specifically authorized by state and federal law to shelter assets.
